

OLSINI WAS THE KING PIN

Local Pitcher Kept Burlington Swinging Like Pendulum

ALLOWED BUT THREE HITS

Gosselin, Who Should Have Been Right at Home in the Watery Field, Was Hit Opportunely by Italian A. C., Who Won 5 to 2.

Those of the faithful who journeyed down to Rangers' field yesterday afternoon met with a surprise in that both the Italian team and the Queen City aggregation furnished a pretty fast brand of the national game, in spite of intermittent showers and a sloppy field. Loose fielding, of course, was unavoidable at times, but on the whole snappy field work and good base running were the order. The Italians won, 5 to 2.

For the locals, Olsini did the honors and seemed to have everything that any pitcher would need to stop the Burlington swat artists. Ten of them fanned, and only three were credited with singles. Gosselin was in the points for Queen City and twirled a consistent game, although he was accorded poor support at critical times. It was mainly a swat-fest for the Italians, however, as a total of eight hits were made off the visiting pitcher.

The Italians started something in the very first round, after two men had failed to reach the initial sack. Singles by Davidi and Wisharti, and two-baggers by Rossini and Maberini netted a total of three runs. Indications pointed to others following in the third, but an unassisted double by Hart nipped operations in the bud. In the seventh another pair was added on an error by Hart, a pass to Davidi, another mistake by Hart and a hit by Wisharti.

The visitors began in the first by tallying one run. Hart was safe to first when Wisharti fumbled, went to second on a free ticket to Hamilton, reached third when Blair got a life on a fielder's choice, and scored on Calagni's error. The last look-in on the scoring came in the seventh. Hamilton was extended another free one by Olsini, came around to the third sack on Davidi's misfire, and tallied on Fisher's long fly to center. The score:

Tonazzi, Maberini; double plays, Tonazzi to Maberini; Hart (unassisted); hit by pitched ball, Davidi, Delorme; struck out, by Gosselin 6, by Olsini 10; left on bases, I. A. C. 4, Queen City 6; umpire, Rossi; time, 1:40.

Notes on the Game.

Tonazzi made a perfect throw to the plate in the seventh, when Blair was cut off from scoring.

"Ollie" had the Burlington sticklers hunting most of the time.

Under the right conditions, Hart's unassisted double in the third might have been stretched into an unassisted triple. A repetition of Neil Ball's stunt would have brought Hart into the line-light some.

One hour and forty minutes was fast time, considering the slow diamond.

Wisharti hit safely three times out of four times at bat.

"Waco" figured in a double in the eighth, when he threw to Maberini after pulling down Denning's high one.

Gosselin should have been perfectly at home in the duck pond surrounding the mound.

Olsini had Hart swinging on two different occasions.

SEN. ALDRICH MAKES REPLY

Admits He is a Stockholder in Rubber Co.

NO PECUNIARY INTEREST

However, as to Whether Tariff Rates Were 30 Per Cent, or 300, His Answer to Senator Bristow.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—Senator Nelson W. Aldrich of Rhode Island, enumerating the counts under which he is indicted by Senator Joseph L. Bristow of Kansas, in recent campaign speeches dealing with the tariff on rubber, in a letter made public last night, denies the charges in their entirety in caustic language to Senator Bristow and what he terms "little group of men" which entertain opinions similar to the Kansas.

The letter is addressed to Representative William B. McKinley of Illinois, chairman of the Republican congressional committee, and was sent to the headquarters of the committee in this city. The legislation of the rubber duties and the denial of the charges made against him by Senator Bristow are based upon the fact that Senator Aldrich was called upon by a Republican candidate for Congress to furnish facts connected with the changes made in the recent tariff act.

Referring to the charges made by Senator Bristow as absurd "misstatements" Senator Aldrich said the persistent iteration of them impelled him to make a full statement.

In the first place the senator declares the increase from 30 to 300 per cent, on a small number of articles of manufactured rubber articles was for the purpose of making the tariff uniform on kindred articles and facilitating the labors of the customs officers.

In that connection he made public a letter to him from General T. S. Sharrett, a member of the New York board of general appraisers, asserting that the change was advisable and had been agreed to unanimously by the Senate and House committees and by the conferees on the tariff bill at the earnest solicitation of the tariff experts.

Laying particular stress upon the charge made by Mr. Bristow, the chairman of the Senate finance committee says that "neither he, nor any member of his family, has ever had any pecuniary interest as to whether the rates on manufactures of rubber were 30, 35 or 300 per cent, or whether crude rubber was on the free or dutiable list."

Dealing then with the charges that the Intercontinental Rubber company, of which he is a director, is a trust, that it advanced the price of crude rubber, and controlled the world's supply, and that the company had paid enormous dividends, Mr. Aldrich treats each separately and at great length.

"It is true that an increase in the rates took place in paragraph 463, which included certain manufactures of Indian rubber, with other items, and it is also true that I am a stockholder and a director in the Intercontinental Rubber company, but none of the other statements referred to, contain a single element of truth."

"Neither the Intercontinental Rubber company, nor I, nor any member of my family has ever had any pecuniary interest as to whether the rates on manufactures of rubber were 30, 35 or 300 per cent, or whether crude rubber was on the free list or the dutiable list."

"Neither the Intercontinental Rubber company nor any of its subordinate companies have ever had the slightest interest, direct or indirect, in the manufacture of any article covered by the change in rates on rubber manufactures in the paragraph alluded to, or otherwise."

"The Intercontinental Rubber company is not in any sense nor of any kind—good or bad—a rubber trust. It was never—and no one connected with it was ever—in combination, or agreement, or arrangement with anything with reference to the production or control, or attempt to control, the price of crude rubber, or of any manufacture of rubber."

"The only relations it ever had with any rubber manufacturing concern have been solely with reference to the sale and delivery of its crude products."

"Crude rubber is and has been on the free list of our tariff, and there has been no movement or suggestion from any source to place it on the dutiable list. Is this important raw material which competes with no domestic product, should be placed upon the dutiable list, the duty would clearly be added to the cost of the rubber to the manufacturer or the consumer, and would still be controlled by the market price of the world."

"Of all the ridiculous statements made by the Kansas senator, none is quite so ridiculous as that in which he states that the Intercontinental Rubber company absolutely controls the crude rubber supply."

ROOSEVELT STUDIES FARMS

He Starts on Another Tour of Investigation

TRIP SIMILAR TO MINES

He Begins Near His Home on Long Island—Most of Yesterday Devoted to an Inspection of "Model Farms."

Mincola, I. I., Aug. 12.—Theodore Roosevelt arrived unannounced in Mincola yesterday morning by automobile and took a special train with Ralph Peters, president of the Long Island railroad, to some point east of here on the Hempstead branch. His destination was not disclosed, as he was making a secret trip of investigation.

Colonel Roosevelt would merely say that he intended to inspect a number of Long Island farms, to learn what the farmers are doing. He had made plans for the trip some time ago, but kept them secret, because he said that if he announced them a crowd of sightseers might hamper him in his work. He wishes to get in personal touch with the farmers, as he did with the miners on his trip to Pennsylvania mining towns last week.

It was understood that most of the day would be devoted to an inspection of the so-called "model farms" along the railroad. Clifford Pinchot of New York, former chief forester, and James R. Garfield, ex-secretary of the interior, who passed the night at Sagamore hill, left yesterday morning for New York.
